Summary

I'm fresh graduate of Computer Science from Universitas Pembangunan Nasional Veteran Jawa Timur with a strong interest in web development, full-stack programming, and game programming. I have previously participated and successfully graduated with good grades in an independent study program as a game programmer at the ICE Institute, as well as the Bangkit program in the field of cloud computing. I'm Interested in things that smell of technology or about software development, especially in the field of game development, websites, and anything. And i'm responsible, proficient in communication, and effective in collaborating as a team on IT projects. I have experience in game development using C#, web development using PHP, JavaScript, Node.js, and MySQL.
